Foreshadowings.

The most amusing performance that has taken place in this city for some time, was the lecture of Rev. C. B. PARSONS, before the Y. M. M. L. Association, at EMITH & NIXON'S Hall, on Thursday evening of last week. Mr. Parsons, in the title of his address, assumed to show that the Divine origin and development of the American Union were foreshad owed in Prophesy; that is to say, that the origin and growth of the United States was not the result of the ordinary, natural processes, but the special and miraculous work of Divine wisdom for a particular purpose; and that this performance was predicted in what are called the prophetic books of the Bible. It is difficult to say which was the most ridiculous, the plan or the execution. The elements of the foreshadowing were a woman in a fancy costume and an interesting situation, a great red dragon, and a new-born man-child, in the twelfth chapter of Revelations; and Zion, without any trouble on her part, bringing forth a nation in a day, in the last chapter of Isaiah. The dragon-which is the Pope-wanted to make a meal of the child-which is the United States of America, born on the 4th of July, 1776-who was caught up to Heaven, while the woman took lodgings in the wilderness. By some unaccountable figure of speech or flight of fancy, however, the Reverend gentleman got the child into the wilderness-which was North America-while he neglected to inform us what became of the fugitive mother, whose wardrobe was not of a character to admit of much exposure.

Having settled the question of Divine origin and development, Mr. PARSONS proceeded to expand on the dangers that market. eset the foreshadowed confederacy. The first is Disunion, of course-a fiend ever ready to divide the sacred whole into parts that it may be swallowed piecemeal by the rubicund monster aforesaid. Enlarging upon this point, he soared to the upper regions of spread-eagle oratory, higher than ever paper kite ascendeddischarging his lightnings alternately upon the Pope, the Devil and HENRY WARD BEECHER, and winding up with a tableau in true dramatic style, which is indescribable by any other words than those in which it was delivered.

WE quoted from the Lutheran Observer, of Baltimore, a day or two since, a statement in respect to six young men now under sentence of death in that city, and an inquiry how, when man does not reach the highest grade of crime at one leap, it came that "these young men, just in the prime of life, and some of them respectably connected, find themselves in the presence of the death of felons." The Observer assumes that there must have been something defective in their education, and then goes on to lament the want of home discipline and religious training. and closes with a recipe for making good boys-keeping them in of nights, taking them to church on Sundays, giving them religious books to read, and preventing them from attending balls and theaters, and so forth. This is well intended, but does not by any means reach the root of the difficulty.

Suppose these boys-as is the case with at least half the boys even in countries called civilized-had nobody to give them the proper home discipline, religious the next page occurs the following: "A party of men has returned from the mines, having training, to take them to church, supply them with religious books, prevent them from attending balls and theaters, or even to set them at work at some useful employment. Suppose their parents are as imperfect, as passionate, as dilatory, as prone to injurious indulgences as themselves-which is the case with the majority, even in Christian lands. Suppose that with more than half the people, even in this highly favored region, the transition from youth to manhood is scarcely marked by more than a change from devotion to one set of sensations to that of another what then? The recipe falls to the ground. There are but the exceptional few to carry it into effect; and if the welfare of society depends upon this species of agency alone, progress in the right direction is not to be expected. It must not be forgotten that there are large classes in our cities that inherit a low grade of civilization-whose ancestors, since the beginning of time, have neither been pious, nor intelligent, nor orderly; who come into the world like wild beasts, to live as chance shall direct, and whose natural end scems to be to die by violence. We have classes unsusceptible of education, except of the lowest and most mechanical sort; incapable of religion, except in the form of some groveling superstition, and in respect to whom any advance from their present state seems almost an impossibility. With such, home discipline, pious training and in his triumphant acquittal, religious books are thrown away. They are out of their reach, and would be of little avail were it otherwise. It is in the low grade of civilization, although sometimes accompanied by wealth and exterior respectability, that the greater share of the crimes of violence originate. Stormy passions, combined with narrow intellectual powers, make up a character upon which discipline, in the ordinary sense, is thrown away. It must work out its des-

We hope our most time-honored neighbor, the Gazette, is not parting with its orthodoxy. Truly, it would be nothing if not orthodox. And yet we thought we observed, the other day, symptoms of what a venerable gospeler once called, in our hearing, "backslision." Speaking in terms measurably of approval of a lecture by DANIEL VAUGHAN, upon the deluge, it treats as reasonable the notion that, while there are evidences of a good many partial freshets, there may have been a general overflow about the time of the appearance of man upon the earth. This will hardly do. The real genuine Scripture deluge did not occur at that era. From the creation to the deluge-Bible chronology-was 1,655 years. The world was created in six days-man on the sixth; and from thence to the navigation of Capt. NOAH was no short period. Our cotemporary should not preach heresy, even by implication.

SMITH O'BRIEN'S DUELS .- During the election at Ennis, Mr. O'Brien fought a duel with O'Connell's "head pacificator," the great Tom Steele. O'Brien was the challenger, and on the first two shots perforated the coat-tails of Steele. O'Brien then demanded a third fire, which the "crack shot" of Clare, O'Gormon Mahon, (who was Steele's second,) refused to accede to, but intimated that if O'Brien sisted on a third fire it should be with him, O'Gormon Mahon. To this O'Brien simply re-plied: "Be it so," and they took their stand amid a multitude of the friends of Steele and O'Gormon, who looked as a certainty to sea O'Brien shot down by the pet of the County Clare. He was not, however, touched, but his bullet shattered a ring on the pistol-hand of

O'Gormon Mahon. THE ADDRESS CLUB.-The Adirondack Club, composed of philosophers, authors, savans, artists and ordinary human beings, the prominent members of which are Ralph Waldo Emerson, James Russell Lowell, Professors Stillman, Agassiz and Wyman, are about purchasing twelve thousand acres of land in the wilds of Adirondack, building a commodious camp-house, and making all con-venient arrangements for their annual sojourn in the woods. As the land can be purchased for twelve and a half cents per acre, it will be seen that the land, twelve thousand acres of woods, lakes, ravines, brook-trout, bears and panthers, can be bought and paid for with-out producing any great panic in the money

A writer from China thus describes the reb els : "The low estimate some of us had formed of the rebels turned out quite correct. I had an opportunity of visiting some of their chiefs. I was quite disgusted with their disreputable and disorderly appearance. Their prefensions to Christianity are of the shallowest description. They are polygamists, opium-smoker and the only Bible example they seem to fol low is that of the Israelites in the conquest of Canaan. The whole country has been laid in rains, the women carried off, the men pressed track every-where. They seem, however, to be on their last legs."

It is now discovered that the cause of the delay in the ratification of the Cass-Yrissarri Treaty is, that Sir Wm. Gore Ouseley, in the course of negotiation, inserted an article in his requiring England to sion of and protection against British fillibus-ters, and Nicaragua amended ours by inserting a clause to the same effect as regards American fillibusters, which government here refuses to accept, on the ground that existing laws are sufficient.

A newly-altered bill of the $10 denomina tion, changed from 2's on the Grayville Bank, Ill., has just been put in circulation. The medallions of the 2's have been scratched and "$10" pasted in. They are easily detected, as the 2's have for a vignette a deer attacked by hounds, while that of the tens is the head of Washington, which occupies nearly the entire center of the bill.

A couple of stage-struck boys, respectively sixteen and seventeen years of age, and stu-dents at Harvard College, ran away from Boston and gave a "reading" in Albany. Their audience consisted of thirty persons. At the end they received a token of regard in the shape of an arrest by the police at the instance of their parents. The boys were taken back to Boston.

Mr. Robert Toombs, the man who "showed what one Senator can do" by factiously defeat-ing the Post-office Appropriation Bill, declares that no other party but the Democratic could have stood the blunders and follies of this Administration, and expresses his doubts that even Democracy can endure two years more of such misrule.—Frankfort (Ky.) J. R. Gardiner, Auction and Commis-BION AGENT, No. 154 MAIN STREET,-We observe that an addition to our places of business has been made, at the above address, within s comparatively recent period. We stepped in to have a look at the new concern the other day, and were informed by the proprietor that he conducts a wholesale as well as retail business, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, Yankee Notions, India-rubber Goods, Portemonnaies, Hosiery, Soaps, Perfumery, Cutlery. and a general assortment of Goods from New York Auctions. The proprietor, who is evidently a courteous and obliging tradesman, informed us that he purchases only for cash, and always on such advantageous terms that he is enabled to offer "bargains" to his patrons, whether they are private purchasors or country

Mr. Gardiner is assisted by three gentlemanly clerks, who spare no pains to give satisfaction to the numerous ladies and gentlemen who already flock to this new and attractive mart of Jewelry, Coral and Garnet Goods, full sets with Bracelets, Gold Bands, Ladies' Sleeve Buttons, Notions, and Pancy Goods in every variety, as already intimated.

Mr. Gardiner, besides the regular sales over the counter during the day, disposes of large quantities of goods every night by auction. These auction sales are attended by crowds of gentlemen, as we have ourselves witnessed, who seemed to us to be very well satisfied with their purchases. We heard no complaint-on the contrary, each one expressed himself pleased with the "bargains" he had made.

Several times Mr. Gardiner and his "young men" announced their willingness to exchange any article that the purchaser should feel discontented with.

"All is not gold that glitters," is an adage as true as it is common, and we may add "all is not Tea that looks like Tea." But at Pendery & Co.'s the lovers of "the cup that cheers but not inebriates," will se sure to obtain Tea that IS TEA. Particuar attention to one fact is respectfully invited: Pendery & Co. select their Teas from the lowest grade to the finest quality raised in the Flowery Land, with strict reference to their drawing qualities, instead of to that which captivates the inexperienced dealer-a showy appearance.

Here you can get teas of all flavor, as distinguished by their titles, thus: Black Teas, Chulans, Congress, English-breakfast, Flower Pekoe, Gunpowder, Imperial, King Yechking, Old Hyson, Oolongs, Orange Pekce, Queen Chops, Young Hyson, and so on.

No. 30 WEST FOURTH STREET.

The following letter is from one of our well known merchants. Whetever he indorses must be of sterling value. It is well worth reading:

Cincinnari, February 15, 1859.

About a month ago I called at Dr. Ayer's "Throat and Lung Institute," a West Fourth street, for treatment for Tonsilitis and Chronic Inflammation of the Throat. The tonsils and uvula (or paiste) were so much enlarged that there seemed to be but one course to pursue, and that was to cut them off; this I had been told by other physicians, who had also candidly told me they could not cure me. Dr. Ayer made a careful examination and pronounced excision unnecessary, and prescribed Medicated Inhalation and topical applications, with general treatment, and the result is a FREFECT TRICHYS! The inflammation has been allayed, and the tonsils and palate reduced to their natural size and position. I now have so sore ness or difficulty whatever of the throat, and FREI THAT I AM NOW FERFECTLY WELL. ness of difficulty whatever of the throst, and reserved at 1 AM NOW PERFECTA WELL.

I cordially commend Dr. Ayeras a skillful and competent physician in his speciality, and worthy of all confidence. His mode of treatment is rational, pleasant, and certainly in my case successful, and I have every reason to believe the Doctor is equally successful in all other cases while I have been under treatment at the Institute.
